Explora en yamarwell

The rugged Atacama Desert lies amidst the towering Andes; a landscape of volcanoes and plateaus alive with flocks of wild flamingoes and llamas. Explora en

Atacama refines the essence of travel to a region such as this – discovery of a new world is still possible. The clean and natural design becomes an extension of the geography, a place of retreat in the wild and remote Chilean landscape, a place to experience the mysteries of nature. Explora en Atacama encourages one to renounce everything except the essential so the essential can speak.
